

All this does is make it tough on the honest consumer who just wants to time shift recordings, so those of us who work for a living don't have to miss our favorite shows in high definition. You are forcing us to switch to a digital system (and w/ HD quality we're not complaining too loudly), but then removing the means to enjoy it by giving us less choices than we had in the analog world.